

Single-site stimulation and closed-loop control: a single read-out column is inert, a resonant drive cures only at the discriminant-aligned site, and feedback minimises the perturbation

